Transport REVIEW

Answer the following questions on your own paper.

1. Draw and label the parts of a cell membrane include phospholipids, proteins, and cholesterol.
2. Define: active transport, passive transport, simple diffusion, osmosis, facilitated diffusion, endocytosis, exocytosis, protein pump, hypertonic, isotonic, hypotonic
3. For the various types of transport from #2, give an example of a substance that uses each type of transport to get through the membrane.
4. Explain diffusion with a picture or diagram.
5. Explain facilitated diffusion with a picture or diagram.
6. Write or draw a real-life example of diffusion.
7. What is osmosis?
8. Draw a Venn diagram to compare/contrast diffusion and osmosis.
9. In general, describe and draw what would happen to a cell if placed in the following environments.
 - a. Isotonic solution:
 - b. Hypotonic solution:
 - c. Hypertonic solution:
10. Draw an arrow in the direction of osmosis for each of the conditions. Assume the membrane is not permeable to sucrose.
 - a. Explain what will happen to a red blood cell placed in a solution of 99.3% water and 0.7% salt.
 - b. Explain what would happen to a red blood cell placed in a solution of 90% water and 10% salt.
12. Draw and describe a plant cell in a hypotonic solution. How will a plant cell respond differently than an animal cell and why?
13. Draw and describe a plant cell experiencing plasmolysis. What type of a solution (hypo-, hyper-, or isotonic) would cause plasmolysis?
14. What would happen to the mass of a cell in a hypertonic solution? A hypotonic solution? An isotonic solution? Why?

Lab – The Raw Egg Mystery

Name _____ Per _____

Purpose – To observe the process of materials moving into and out of a permeable membrane

Materials – raw chicken egg, 16 oz. Cup, vinegar, string, syrup, ruler, distilled water, scale/ t.b.b.

- Procedure –
- Day 1 -
- 1) Obtain a raw egg in its shell.
 - 2) Using a piece of string and a ruler, measure the long and short circumference of the egg. Enter results in the data table.
 - 3) Carefully place the egg in the cup and cover with vinegar.
 - 4) Observe what happens to the egg and record in data table.
- Day 2 -
- 1) Without removing from cup – make and record observations about the egg.
- Day 3 -
- 1) Carefully remove the egg from the vinegar and rinse with tap water.
 - 2) Observe how the egg looks and feels. Record your observations.
 - 3) Measure the long and short circumferences and record your data.
 - 4) Using the scale, measure and record the mass of the egg.
 - 5) Thoroughly rinse the cup with tap water.
 - 6) Carefully place the egg in the cup and cover with distilled water.
- Day 4 -
- 1) Carefully remove the egg from the cup and rinse with tap water.
 - 2) Observe how the egg looks and feels. Record your observations.
 - 3) Measure and record the long and short circumferences of the egg.
 - 4) Using the scale, measure and record the mass of the egg.
 - 5) Carefully place the egg in the cup and cover with syrup.
- Day 5 -
- 1) Carefully remove the egg from the cup and rinse with tap water.
 - 2) Observe how the egg looks and feels. Record your observations.
 - 3) Measure and record the long and short circumferences of the egg.
 - 4) Using the scale, measure and record the mass of the egg.

	Solution	Short Circumference	Long Circumference	Mass	Observations
Day 1				XXXXX
Day 2	XXXXX	XXXXX	XXXXX	XXXXX

DIFFUSION & OSMOSIS WEBQUEST

Directions: Write your name, date, and class period on a piece of white-lined paper*.  titled DIFFUSION & OSMOSIS WEBQUEST. Answer the following questions for each particular link/animation. Use complete sentences and be sure to number your answers correctly.

* or use a computer to word process.
 or print the worksheet form.

Check out all the links below and answer the corresponding questions.

Diffusion Animation

<http://lessons.harveyproject.org/development/general/diffusion/diffanimembs/diffanimembs.html>

Question 1. What TWO things do you notice about the movement of the particles?

Diffusion thru Membrane – Click on “ Diffusion ”, then “ Diffusion with Arrows ”

<http://www.indiana.edu/~phys215/lecture/lecnotes/diff.html>

Question 2. At the beginning of the animation, How many particles are on each side of the membrane?

Question 3. Are the particles moving in only one direction, or are they moving in both directions?

Question 4 . Watch the animation for 2 minutes, or until it reads “NO NET FLOW”. Now how many particles are on each side of the membrane?

Question 5 . What is meant by the website author when he states “diffusion goes from the higher concentration side to the lower concentration side”?

Carbon dioxide
Oxygen
Oxygen diffuses out of the cells through the stomata after being produced during photosynthesis
Carbon dioxide diffuses through the stomata and into leaf cells for photosynthesis
There is a high concentration of carbon dioxide in the air
Carbon dioxide diffuses into the leaf as there is a lower concentration of carbon dioxide there
Oxygen diffuses out of the leaf as there is a lower concentration of oxygen there
There is a high concentration of oxygen in the leaves as it builds up during photosynthesis
